TEEN-PARENT SMART DRIVING CONTRACT

Use this agreement to help set up the rules so they are clearly understood by both parent and driver.

When teens and parents work together, teens become safer drivers. Understanding the driving laws, getting to know the graduated driver's license (GDL), and most importantly, talking to your teen about rules of the road will help them be smart drivers. Inexperience and distractions are the leading risk factors for teen driving crashes. Teens also have the lowest seat belt use of any age group.

Junior Permit

- 16 years of age
- 6 month minimum before taking driving test
- At least 50 hours documented supervised driving before taking their road test, including 15 hours of driving after dusk
- Supervisor must be 21 years of age and have a valid drivers license

Junior Driver

- Only 1 non-family passenger under age 21
- No driving 9pm – 5am, except work or school (school for academic reasons, i.e. not attending a sporting, theatrical, or musical event)
- Driver's Education allows for full license (Class D) at 17 years of age
- Parents can withdraw their consent for a Junior Driver license through the DMV

Parent Tips - 89% of teens say their parents are most influential in encouraging safe driving

- Set a good example
 - Always wear your seat belt
 - Control your own speed/aggression
 - Avoid cell phone use and other distractions
- Talk to your children early and often as you do for other risky behaviors
- Know the GDL rules and enforce them
- Allow your teen to practice driving - it is the single most important thing you can do to help your teen stay safe on the road
- Set up rules and guidelines, i.e. – no passengers for first six months, no night time driving, gradually add new privileges as your new driver gains experience

Every year nearly 6,000 teenagers are killed in car crashes and about 300,000 are injured. Despite safer cars, better roads and countless driving programs, the numbers have stayed fairly constant for more than a decade. You can help change this.
